That man is Crawford Martin, candidate for the vital job of lawyer for the people of Texas, as its attorney General.

Crawford Martin has served with distinction as a small city mayor, as State Senator for 15 years and as Secretary of State for Texas from 1963 until his recent resignation to make this race. He has been a highly able lawyer for 27 years.

His record as senator is one of effective action for the people. He sponsored successfully laws providing medical aid for the aged, insurance reforms, registration of lobbyists and legislation revitalizing the Texas effort to attract new industry. In his effective, direct way Crawford Martin has built a record of distinguished public service.

He is singularly qualified through proven legal ability, through sound, mature judgment, to be the lawyer for the people of Texas. Never in its history has Texas required more the best legal skill available to it.

Crawford Martin comes to the voters as a man unusually well prepared for the Attorney General's office. He is deserving of your fullest consideration, and of your vote, this Saturday.

Gruner Decision Still Unchanged

By WAYNE BOARD

Dr. J. Manly Bryan, Canyon physician, said Monday night he would remain as a member of the Amarillo Bi-City-County Health Unit, after Canyon Mayor Paul Lindsey refused his resignation from the board.

Forrest Gruner, Randall County's representative on the board, said his decision to resign had not changed. Randall County commissioners Monday tabled action on his letter of resignation.

Dr. Kahn, contacted Tuesday, said the appointment of a replacement for Gruner on the board was a decision to be made by Randall County Commissioner's Court.

"I had turned in my resignation", Bryan said, "but since then Dr. Mason Kahn asked I remain.

Dr. Bryan submitted a letter of resignation to the Canyon City Commission Monday night, but Lindsey refused it saying, "I think you have a lot to offer and can serve Canyon best by staying on."

"I have a personal liking for Dr. Bryan," Dr. Kahn said in a letter to the commission, "it is my feeling that he has a great deal to contribute by remaining on the Board of Health, and no useful function will be served by Dr. Bryan's resignation."

Dr. Bryan has previously said his board had investigated unfavorable reports on the unit since Jan. 1 at the request of Amarillo city officials.

When the report was submitted, four members of the board voted for dismissal. In the minority report, three mem-

Citizens Study Guidelines Set

Suggestions for improvement of the problem, rather than condemnation, was stressed at the committee meeting by Hubert Oppe as he spoke to the group.

Plans were made for educational programs on the "morals problem" being available to civic and social clubs of Canyon. Appointed as speakers were Rev. Charles Meredith, pastor of the First Christian Church, Dr. James Dunn, director of the Baptist Student Center, Dr. Kenneth Waugh, director of student personnel services at West Texas State University, and Scott Downing, Canyon High School student.

bers felt that Dr. Kahn should be retained but that corrective measures should be taken.

"This in no way implies that I have changed my mind in terms of my original concurrance with the majority opinion presented to the Amarillo City Commission, Dr. Bryan stated.

"However," he said, "since they accepted the minority report that stated that the present director be retained and corrective action be taken I am willing to represent the interests of the city of Canyon in carrying out this action."

Dr. Bryan said he would be willing to accept the city commission's request to stay on the board "for the time being."

In other Canyon City Commission business, Jess Ford was awarded two bids on vehicles to be used to replace existing equipment.

The local dealer will supply the city with a 1966 F100 one-half ton pickup at a cost of $1,545.26. The price includes trade-ins on two existing pickups and a 1955 truck. The city has budgeted $1,500 for the vehicle.

The city will also purchase a 428 cubic inch Ford with 345 horse power for $1,953.95 for the Police Department from Jess Ford. The city will trade-in the 1964 model now being used. Amount budgeted for the new vehicle was $1,900.

The city fathers also voted to give $130, either in funds or "in kind" to the Potter-Randall Community Action Committee.

Commissioner George Ritter explained the organization consisted of 36 members from the two counties who studied the poverty problems and gave needed funds.

He said the program, governed by the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, D. C., is established to permit the federal government to pay 90 percent of the costs of the program and the local community 10 percent.

As an example of the workings of the program, Ritter said that if the Salvation Army requested funds to begin a new program or to continue one already in existence, approval would probably be given.

He said $25,000 for administrative functions is requested for the 10 percent share from the two counties for the first year, and, if the City wished to continue participation, both local and federal units would pay on a 50-50 basis.

Lindsey gave approval to permit City Manager Garry Gwyn and Ritter authority to determine what the City would do as their share.

Ritter also said the program would be on a voluntary basis and that the City was under no obligation to continue supporting it after the first year.

Commissioners also examined a 12-month budget report on revenue and expenditures of the city from April 1, 1965 to March 31, 1966.

Gwyn explained that although the City had gone over its budget by $40,472.51, this was less than 10 percent and still left the City "on solid ground."

He said that a $19,000 water loop at West Texas State University and $17,500 spent for water rights during the past year made the expenditures more than was anticipated.

Also approved by the commission was the appointment of E. H. Lindsey, Canyon attorney, to fill the position of Municipal Judge and Tax Collector Burney Slack for about two months.

Slack is in Neblett Hospital suffering from a heart attack.

Gwyn explained that the tax role needed to be prepared and other functions of Slack needed to be completed.

He said Lindsey, who is not related to Canyon's mayor, has had previous training in municipal law.

Commissioners discussed installing a left-turn signal on 4th Avenue and the highway as a safety factor and to help move traffic.

Gwyn said he would talk with Texas Highway Department officials and discuss the matter, but added that they might require construction of special turning lanes. The City would pay the cost of the turning lights.

Buffalo Radio Club of Canyon requested and received permission to conduct a safe driving campaign by selling flares to local residents.

Pat Jarrett and R. D. Guill, representing the ham radio club, said their campaign would be along the lines of "a flare for every spare."

In a letter to the commission, Mrs. T. B. McCarter of the Texas County Historical Survey Committee, requested that the City purchase an historical marker to be placed on City Hall.

Commissioners tabled the motion until they could get an idea as to wording on the marker. Mrs. McCarter suggested a marker that would cost $375.

A new codification of ordinances was approved on second reading and will be decided upon at the final reading, probably in two weeks when the commission meets again.

The ordinances, Gwyn said, had been studied by a legal firm and were revised to allow for simplification of certain points and to organize Canyon's rules and regulations.

Willhite won the "Off Stage" award in recognition of his backstage work and set construction on every production last fall.

360 Pets Get Shots

Annual anti-rabies clinic held in Canyon last week end has been termed a success by Dr. J. L. Markham of Markham Veterinarian Clinic.

"We gave vaccinations to approximately 360 family pets," stated Markham. "This brought our total immunizations for the year to about 900."

The important anti-rabies injections were administered at a reduced rate during the two-day clinic.

Pets should have rabies injections renewed at least once each year to be effective stated Dr. Markham. All pets should be vaccinated in an effort to halt the spread of the disease.

Baseball Theory Proven In Contest

The old baseball theory that "the games not over till the last man is out" held up for the Hereford Whitefaces last Tuesday, when they came from behind to defeat Canyon 7-2 in extra innings.

Canyon, marking single runs in the first and sixth frames, led Hereford 2-1 entering the final stanza of a scheduled seven inning affair. A pair of errors, however, handed the Whitefaces the tying run in the top of the seventh. The equalizer scored on a long sacrifice fly.

Then in the eighth frame, the Whitefaces exploded for five markers. The big blow of the frame was a two run homer by Barry Johnson, which cleared the right centerfield fence with plenty to spare. Two singles, two stolen bases, a walk, and double accounted for the other three Hereford tallies.

James Evans pounded a long solo homer in the bottom of the sixth to put the Eagles out in front. For the contest, the Canyon nine managed but four hits off righthander Ed Mims of the Whitefaces. Losing pitcher, Tom Lair gave up only eight hits and a pair of earned runs in going the distance. Lair's curve ball was working exceptionally well, and the lanky hurler looked sharp all afternoon.

The defeat at the hands of the Whitefaces was the second for the Eagles so far this season. Canyon stands 0-3 in district action and 1-3 for the campaign.

Canyon meets Dumas in a doubleheader at the Pony League Park this Saturday, in a return date with the Demons. The Eagles fell to the Dumas diamond nine 11-1 earlier in district action.

WTSU Wins Over Hardin-Simmons

In a rain abbreviated track meet at Stephenville, last weekend, West Texas State University took a pressurized win over Hardin-Simmons by a point count of 155-146.

It was the first meet of the season for WTSU, as one scheduled two weeks ago at Abilene was rained out. Entering the final event in the javelin throw, the Buffs trailed H-SU by eight points but they then grabbed four of six places in the event to win the meet.

Steve Haterius, a safetyman on the WTSU football team, led the Herd to victory with 20 points. Clarence Dierking, coach of the Buffalo Team, saw 17 of 18 players on the squad score points for WTSU.

In the five team meet, host team Tarleton State finished third, Texas Wesleyan fourth and St. Edward's fifth.

One of the oddities in the meet was the fact that West Texas State University won it, although having but three first place finishers. Richard Reneau of Phillips took the broad jump with a mark of better than 21.3 feet. Haterius was runnerup to Reneau in the event.

Another first place winner was Gary Conner of the Buffs, who ran the high hurdles in 15.5 seconds. Second place finishes for WTSU came in the 440-relay, the discus, 440-yard dash, shot, 100-year dash, 120-yard high hurdles, 220-yard dash, and the javelin.

Jack Moore tossed the discus 141 1/2 feet to take the medal for that event. Albie Owens finished second in the same event with a mark of over 127 feet.

Other runner-up winners for the Herd were Charles Dently, shot; James Cowell, 440-yard dash; Tom Crabtree, 120-high hurdles, Clyde Moland, 220-yard dash; and Haterius in the javelin.

In the 440-yard relay, a team composed of Ronnie Mankin, Reneau, Donald Dennis, and Moland grabbed the second position.

This weekend, the Buffaloes travel to Portales for a duel meet against Eastern New Mexico University on Saturday.

Buff Baseballers Lose To Raiders

The pitching thin Buffs of West Texas State University will be hoping to break a long losing streak, when they invade Eastern New Mexico University for a single game this Saturday.

WTSU, 1-19 for the season, went down to a pair of defeats against rival Texas Tech in Lubbock last week. The Red Raiders barely came out alive in the opener of the Wednesday twinbill, as the battling Buffs trailed only 3-2 entering the last inning. A Herd threat died in the final frame, when a Buffalo runner was called out on a very close steal attempt at second base.

In the nightcap, the Raiders feasted on Herd pitching and mental errors, in tallying 14 big runs in the first inning. Mike Bailey, a flankerback on the Herd football team, failed to get a batter out in the first frame, as Tech pounded him for five runs. Three of the runs plated on a long homer by Tech's Lee Watts.

Gene Gerber, a curveballing righthander, held the Raiders in check in the opener until the third inning. In that frame, the Red Raiders were aided by a pair of mental blunders by the WTSU nine. With two outs and runners at second and third, Tech hit a bouncing ball to third. The Buffs Mike Hicks played the ball cleanly but they couldn't make the throw, as the ball stuck in his glove. Moments later, two more Tech runs scored on a misjudged fly ball that should've ended the inning.

Gerber, in going the distance, allowed only seven hits, and two walks, while striking out one. WTSU took a brief 1-0 margin in the third, when Hicks walked, stole second and third, and then came across on a single by Darrell Aldridge.

Coach Jimmy Viramontes announced the signing of four basketball players at West Texas State University last week, one of them Rick Bacon of Canyon.

Bacon, a 6-5 senior on the Canyon Eagles district champion team the past season, was recently voted the Most Valuable Player on the 1965-66 high school team. The 200-pounder possesses excellent rebounding and shooting ability, as shown by his performance at Canyon in the recent campaign.

Among the other players to sign, are a pair of junior college transfers expected to bolster the Herd varsity, as it battles a rugged schedule next season. The two are David Nowlin, a 6-6, 185-pounder from Ranger Junior College, and Jesse Hightower, a 6-7, 235-pound cager from Henderson Junior College. Nowlin was selected on the All-Regional team at Ranger JC while Hightower averaged 15 points and 14 rebounds at Henderson JC the past season.

One of the biggest men ever to sign with WTSU is John Burkhalter, a 6-10 freshman from Amarillo Tascosa. The 210-pound giant is expected to grow a few more inches before playing varsity ball when he becomes a sophomore. Formerly, the tallest man at WTSU was 6-10 Charley Halbert of a few years back.

Recently completed was the WTSU schedule for the next season, which apparently is equal to that of any school in the state of Texas. The Buffs will battle the nation's powers in such teams as Texas Western Oklahoma City, Houston, and Colorado State. Texas A&M will come to WTSU Dec. 27, while Tulsa invades Buffalo land on Dec. 12. The Buffs open on Dec. 3 against the great Phillips 66 Oilers.

On tap for the regular schedule are 18 games, while the Buffs will also compete in a two day tournament at Ogden, Utah, Dec. 28-29.

Entered in the Ogden tourney is the number one small college team in the Salukis of Southern Illinois, and another cage power in Butler. The Buffs will also tangle with Hardin-Simmons University, Centenary, New Mexico State University, and Abilene Christian.

That basketball schedule should provide a real treat for area cage fans, but Coach Viramontes may have his doubts as to what kind of treat it may be for his battling WTSU Buffaloes.

Work Begins At Theatre

Construction has begun on two new buildings near the site of the Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon, according to Raymond Raillard, executive vice president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Dressing rooms, south of the stage, will form the arms of a large U-shaped building, 102 by 70 feet. A center section shop will be provided for a real locomotive, road wagons and other pioneer-time articles.

Raillard said Ramey Construction of Amarillo was awarded contract for the two complexes and cost would be approximately $80,000.

The other building, located east of the light and sound stage, would be used as a ticket office and for concessions.

The money, from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, is a part of a program by Texas Governor John Connally to attract more tourists to the state.

Raillard said about $220,000 will be spent by the commission for Palo Duro State park camping facilities, rest rooms and ground improvements.

Second season for the amphitheatre will begin July 1 with Paul Green's "Texas."

COOK OF THE WEEK

Shares Recipe Trio

By LORENA MILLER

Mrs. J. E. Thomas shares a trio of recipes with our readers this week including Chicken Divine, Fruit Salad, and Snickerdoodles.

A mother of five, Mrs. Thomas is the former Minnie McMinn of Childress. She has two brothers, Dee McMinn of Childress and Hezy McMinn of Corpus Christi, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Taylor of San Antonio and Mrs. W. T. Wilkerson of Midland.

Mrs. Thomas and her husband were married February 25, 1917. He was also raised at Childress and has two brothers, H. M. of Amarillo and C. T. of Kirkland, and three sisters, Bertha Cross of Olton, Celie Brooks of Childress and Essie Glenn of Amarillo.

"We moved to Canyon to be close to our children here," stated Mrs. Thomas. "My husband is a retired farmer--and I guess we have farming in our blood as we still like to raise a garden and work in the yard."

The couple also enjoys fishing and has recently returned from several weeks fishing and visiting with their daughters along the coast.

Children of the couple are Doyle Thomas who lives in Canyon, Mrs. Louise O'Brien, also of Canyon, Mrs. Marie Barclay of Plainview, Mrs. Estelle Hammond of Houston, and Mrs. Doris Moore of Iowa Park.

"We have 13 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren," smiled Mrs. Thomas. Two of the couple's granddaughters, Patsy Thomas and Sharon O'Brien, are students at West Texas State University.

"Our children are all graduates of Kirkland High School," said Mrs. Thomas stating that the Kirkland Schools have now been consolidated with the Childress School system.

"We are members of the Primitive Baptist Church of Paducah," said Mrs. Thomas explaining that they now have to travel to Plainview or Amarillo to attend the church of their choice.

Sewing and crochet are among the favorite hobbies of Mrs. Thomas who commented that she "likes to bake in batches when the children visit".

She shares the following recipes with our readers this week:

CHICKEN DIVINE

2 pkg. frozen broccoli
2 cups cooked chicken breast
2 cans cream of chicken soup
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 cup shredded American cheese
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
1 Tbsp. melted butter

Cook broccoli according to package directions. Drain broccoli and place in the bottom of an ungreased pyrex casserole dish (covering the bottom).

Prepare sauce by combining chicken soup, mayonnaise and cheese in sauce pan. Heat until cheese is melted.

Place sliced, cooked chicken breasts over broccoli. Pour sauce over the broccoli and chicken and add lemon juice.

Combine bread crumbs and butter and sprinkle over casserole. Bake in 350 degree oven for 25-30 minutes until bubbly.

Serve with cooked rice, hot rolls and a colorful fruit salad. Excellent to prepare in advance and pop in the oven when ready to serve.

FRUIT SALAD

1 1/2 can fruit cocktail
1 (8 oz) pkg cream cheese
1 pkg. lemon jello
1 cup small marshmallows
3/4 cup chopped celery
1 cup nuts
1 cup whipping cream

Drain cocktail. Heat juice and dissolve jello and cheese and marshmallows. Cool.

Add fruit to salad as it begins to set. Beat cream and fold into salad.

SNICKERDOODLES

1 cup soft shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
2 3/4 cups sifted flour
2 tsp. cream of tartar
1 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Mix shortening, sugar and eggs together thoroughly. Sift flour, cream of tartar, soda and salt together and stir in.

Roll into balls the size of small walnuts. Roll in mixture of 2 Tbsp. sugar and 2 tsp. cinnamon. Place about two inches apart on ungreased cooky sheet.

Bake 8-10 minutes in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) until lightly brown, but still soft. "These cookies puff up at first and then flatten out with a crinkled top", said Mrs. Thomas.

Yield: 5 dozen two-inch cookies.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

I. BACKGROUND

Lifelong area resident*Practicing attorney*Former public school and college teacher*Texas University graduate (B.A., L.L.B., class president, outstanding student award, athletic letterman)*Officer-Army reserve*Married-wife, Amarillo teacher*Church school teacher*Civic club worker.

II. PLATFORM

The theme of my campaign is stronger and more aggressive representation of the Panhandle area in Austin. It disturbs me to see the other areas of this state, especially our competitor to the south, receiving benefits while we are usually bypassed. I believe it is time to change that situation.

As a former teacher, I shall not only support education at all levels but I shall actively work for further pay raises and the improvement of our whole educational system, also I intend to aggressively fight for measures which promote the growth and prosperity of our Panhandle. I believe that I have the education, experience, ability and enthusiasm to do the job in Austin for making a greater Panhandle area. I will sincerely appreciate your vote in the Democratic Primary on Saturday. Thank you.

Rainfall Recorded

A total of .78 of moisture was recorded April 22 and 23, said Larry Frazier, graduate assistant in geography at West Texas State University, who compiles weather information here.

Friday the city received .69 and Saturday morning rainfall totaled .09, he said.

"Most agricultural producers agree that the moisture received last week, about an inch average over the county, will serve best," said Randall County Agent John Brazzil, "if it is backed up soon with more good rains."

Many acres of dryland wheat which had been abandoned are expected to make average yields, irrigated wheat is in good condition and greening pastures will end the long feeding period for cattle.

"The major damage from the freezing temperatures of April 21 was to early tender vegetables such as tomatoes which had been rushed to a few gardens by those who expected no more freezing weather", Brazzil said.

He said fruit trees may have lost more of their scant fruit crop, which was reduced by earlier freezes.

"Sugar beet producers report that beets are up and growing," he said. About 300 acres of beets are being grown in north and west Randall County, he said.

Brazzil also said that irrigated wheat was in "good condition."

Frazier said records show that totals for the past four months show .75 for January, .32 for February, none during March and the .79 that fell last week end.

FOR A GREATER TEXAS!

Political ad paid for by Connally for Governor Campaign Committee, Lewis Timberlake, Chairman

The Texas Constitution says the Attorney General has three duties:

1) To represent the state in suits in the Supreme Court in which the state may be a party; 2) To "especially inquire" into charter rights of corporations and to prevent them from collecting unauthorized tolls or taxes; 3) To give legal advice to the governor and other executive officials.

Crawford Martin in our opinion, can fulfill these Constitutional obligations better than any other man in the Attorney General's race.

Mailbox Week Is Planned

"Mail Box Improvement Week" has been set for May 16-21 according to an announcement by local postmaster, Lee Roy Moreland.

The purpose of the week is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect the mail from the weather, and which are neat in appearance, conveniently located and safe to use.

Patrons on rural, city motorized and box delivery star routes are encouraged to assist with the program for more efficient delivery operation.

Rural route mailboxes of the approved traditional or contemporary design are required, whenever a mailbox is newly installed or replacing an old one. Patrons using obsolete top-opening boxes may continue to use them at the same location, provided they are kept in serviceable condition and other wise meet the requirements.

Where box numbers are assigned, the name of the owner and the box number must be shown on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches or on the door where boxes are grouped. Mailboxes on rural routes and star routes must be located on the right-hand side of the road in the direction travelled by the carrier.

Department of Agriculture

FROM 1915-1916 LE MIRAGE--"Hitch your wagon to a star" but keep the wheels on the ground. The chief industry of the great State of Texas is essentially agriculture, hence the state has wisely provided by law that the underlying principles of agriculture be taught in all of her public schools. The West Texas Normal College offers abundant opportunity for teachers to prepare to give this valuable instruction. Under the management of H.W. Geller, the Department of Agriculture has made wonderful progress during the year 1915-1916. The laboratory is thoroughly equipped for classroom demonstration in this science. Many boys and girls were seen during the Spring Quarter, with rakes and hoes in hand, making their gardens. Also, they go to the nearby pastures, with score cards in hand, where, under the direct supervision of Professor Geller they learn to judge livestock. Thus we see the student is brought in contact with the practical as well as the theoretical phase of agriculture."

ENTRANCE to the new Applied Science Building. Open House for the Agriculture Department of the University will be held here from 1-7 p.m. on Friday.

Agriculture

Agriculture has expanded from the "planting and praying" method of farming into the most progressive of sciences.

Diversification is the keynote of modern agriculture and leading the field in development in the Panhandle is the Department of Agriculture at West Texas State University.

Fifty years of growth and change, from 1916 to 1966, will be marked Friday with an Anniversary Awards and Recognition Program in the East Dining Hall, 7 p.m.

Preceeding the banquet, open house will be held in the new home of the Agriculture Department, the Applied Science building from 1-7 p.m. A social and dance in the Student Union Building will follow the banquet.

On Sept. 20, 1910, the Prospectus for West Texas Normal College noted that agriculture would be taught by Mr. T. S. Minter. It also commented that Mr. Minter was "graduated Peabody Normal College, A.B. University of Nashville, 16 years as superintendent of city schools, farming four years, student in the A. & M. Department of the University of Wisconsin, was reared on a farm."

In 1916, agriculture first achieved department status and for the first time was pictured in Le Mirage, the school annual.

By contrast, todays Department of Agriculture is housed in a $200,000 building and claims 280 majors. It is headed by Charles M. Smallwood who came to WTSU in 1958 as professor and head of the department of Agriculture.

Smallwood, who received a B.S. degree in animal husbandry from Oklahoma State University, also has a master of science degree from Texas A. & M. with specialization in beef cattle production and a minor in genetics. This summer he will receive his Ph. D. from Texas A. & M.

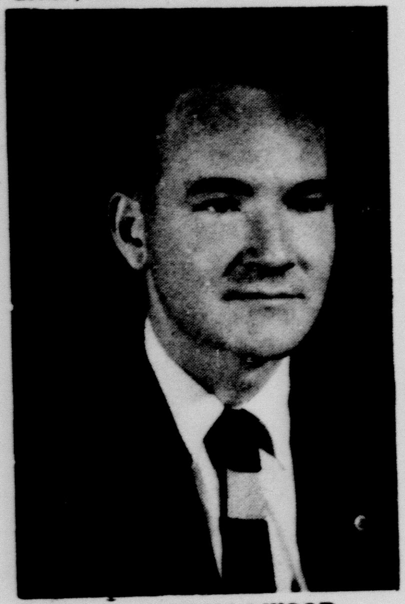
Charles M. Smallwood Heads Ag Department

Charles M. Smallwood, professor of Agriculture and head of the Agriculture Department, came to West Texas State University, in 1958.

Under his guidance the school has expanded in number of students, number of instructors and in facilities available to the agriculture major.



CHARLES SMALLWOOD

A native of Wilburton, Oklahoma, Smallwood received a B.S. degree in Animal Husbandry from Oklahoma State University in 1949.

From 1950-54 he served as County Agent in Hugo, Okla., and from 1954 to 1958 as instructor at Murray State Agriculture College at Tishomingo, Okla.

He received an M.S. degree from Texas A. & M. with specialized study in the production of beef cattle with a minor in genetics. Thesis written in connection with this study is "Histological Changes in the Female Bovine following the Progesterone Treatment."

Smallwood, will receive his Ph. D. from Texas A. & M. this summer, with a dissertation on "Variations in Rate of Gain and Efficiency of Feed Utilazation in Feedlot Steers."

While at Murray State (1955) he assisted in establishing the first Double-Registered Bull Test in the United States. This testing program is still a successful operation.

In the fall of 1959 he was instrumental in establishing the Swine Testing Station at West Texas State University. Articles by Smallwood concerning this station have been reprinted in the Texas Swine Breeders Directory and Production Manual.

For support of State 4-H in Oklahoma, Smallwood has been honored by the Oklahoma Extension Service. He has also been recognized by state organizations in Texas and Oklahoma for work with the Future Farmers of America state program.

Smallwood is a member of the American Society of Animal Production and has judged livestock exhibitions in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Tennessee.

In the classroom he specializes in teaching animal husbandry courses in production of beef and swine, supervises work with the Swine Testing Station and freshman courses in animal husbandry.

Smallwood is married to the former Peggy Jo Ritter of McAllister, Oklahoma. They have one son, Chuck, a senior at Canyon High School whose main interest is agriculture journalism.

Ken Wilson Is Ag Dairy Instructor

A graduate of McLean High School, he received his B.S. in general agriculture from WTSU in 1959. An M.S. in Dairy Science from Texas A.& M. was earned in 1962, with a thesis titled "Defatted Fish Meals As A Source of Protein in Milk Replacers For Dairy Calves."

Work was begun on a Ph.D. from Texas A. & M. in the field of Dairy Science, prior to coming to WTSU in 1963, as assistant professor in agriculture.

KENNETH WILSON

Wilson, who belongs to Beta Beta Beta biological society, is also a member of the American Society of Animal Science, the American Dairy Science Association and is technician with American Breeders Service, Central Ohio Breeding Association and Curtis Breeders Inc.

He teaches in the fields of dairy husbandry, dairy processing, nutrition and entomology.

Under the supervision of Wilson, income from the WTSU dairy herd has increased 40 per cent in a three-year period. The West Texas State University dairy herd is ranked as honor herd in Randall County and according to an April report by John D. Brazzil, County Agent, Randall County ranks first in the state in dairy herd production.

Wilson is married to the former Barbara Nell Williams of McLean. The Wilsons have two sons, Eddie, age 9, and Mark, age 5.

Options Offered Agriculture Majors

All freshmen agriculture majors take animal science, dairy science, poultry science and the study of field crops. After this general introduction to agriculture the student may pick an option in the field in which his interests lie. He can study agronomy, animal science, agribusiness, dairy science or pre-veterinary, pre-forestry or pre-vocational agriculture.

AGRONOMY

While a sophomore the agronomy major takes horticulture and crop adaptation. As a junior he will study soils, forage or grain crops, plant breeding, and soil fertility. In the senior year he picks electives in the field of agronomy.

Laboratory work such as soil testing and field work are included. Crop labs deal with identification and utilization techniques of various crops.

Persons majoring in this field are trained for: return to farming and ranching, professional careers in research (such as at Bushland and Halfway), Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, work with seed companies, fertilizer companies.

ANIMAL SCIENCE

All students are introduced to general courses in animal science. As sophomores they study breeds of livestock, where they originated and how they are useful. They also study anatomy.

The junior and senior student with a major in animal science will study feeds; nutrition; animal breeds; beef, sheep and swine production; livestock judging and selection; artificial insemination and hormones.

The graduating animal science major is prepared for a job in livestock buying, feed-lot management, commercial and purebred ranch management, meat processing, general farming and ranching, Department of Agriculture, soil conservation, extension service or graduate school for research.

AGRIBUSINESS

The agribusiness major is a relatively new field, begun in the early 1960's. It combines an agriculture major with a minor in business.

Business courses are in accounting, business law, economics, and marketing.

This is currently the most rapidly expanding field in agriculture with jobs available in all agriculture-related business such as chemical fertilizers, hybrid seed companies, farm equipment, hail and crop insurance adjustment.

There is an increased demand by business for a student with a background in agriculture and a knowledge of business principles.

DAIRY SCIENCE

Following the basic agriculture courses, the dairy science major participates in courses on dairy husbandry, dairy industry (processing), breeding, feeding and management. Later he will take courses in artificial insemination, feeding and nutrition.

Each major picking up the dairy science option works with the WTSU dairy herd and the equipment. Laboratory work includes studying milk composition and analysis.

WTSU has a dairy herd of 75 Holsteins and Jerseys with a milking herd of 45 head. It is the leading institutional dairy herd in the state of Texas and ranks in the top ten among institutional dairies in the United States. It is also the only school dairy in the state that is operated completely by students.

Students with this option may enter fields of dairy production, processing, sales, dairy equipment, feed, or research.

PRE-VETERINARY

Students entering the fields of pre-veterinary, pre-forestry, or pre-vocational agriculture spend two years in specialized courses relating to the field they will enter.

They receive preparation for entry into specialized schools. WTSU works closely with Texas A. & M. on requirements.

Instructor Coaches Livestock Judging

According to head of the Agriculture Department, Charles Smallwood, "Beerwinkle is an East Texas boy. We just sprayed him and dipped him and let him come anyway."

Don Beerwinkle of Temple joined the staff of agriculture instructors in 1964. He is a graduate of Belton High School and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Texas A. & M. in 1962.

An M.S. in Animal husbandry with specialization in sheep production came in 1964 with a thesis on "Effects of Pre-Weaning and Post-Weaning Feeding on Lamb Carcasses and Estimation of Carcass Fat and Retail Cuts by Various Carcass Measurements."

While a student at New Mexico State University, Beerwinkle led the NMSU judging team to a first place at the Houston Fat Stock Show. For the past three years he has coached the judging team at WTSU to two first place wins and a high team scoring the third year.

He is married to the former Pat Nichols of Pampa. The Beerwinkles have a daughter, Shelli, who is seven months old.

If the weather turns dry, you can expect to see good stands of Haygrazer long after ordinary grazing crops have faded away.

Plant Golden Acres brand TE Haygrazer now; you'll get the best grazing—and in a big hurry. Buy your Haygrazer seed now. We have them.

There is only one original Haygrazer, and it comes from Golden Acres. If the name TE Haygrazer is not on the bag, it's not Haygrazer.

Fred Ives became acting head of the department in 1921 and Frank R. Phillips was associate professor of vocational high school agriculture.

In 1923 Phillips became department head and was joined by T.A. Fritts, followed by T.M. Moore in 1924. Phillips remained head of the department until 1956.

When Dr. M. R. Calliham became head of the agriculture department in 1956, it included three other instructors, Jimmie Green, Aubrey Crossland and Ralph Harbin.

Today there are four instructors in addition to Mr. Smallwood. They are Green, Harbin, Don Beerwinkle, and Kenneth Wilson.

Facilities include laboratories, special equipment, a dairy and the college farm.

Students no longer are limited to "going back to the farm", due to diversification of studies.

T.S. MINTER

Until 1952 courses were general. At that time Dr. Calliham began re-organization of the curriculum to match the offerings of major institutions.

General agriculture courses were replaced by agronomy, animal husbandry and vocational agriculture.

Today, under the guidance of Smallwood, the department offers, animal science, agronomy, dairy science, agribusiness, general agriculture, and pre-veterinary, pre-forestry and pre-vocational agriculture options for the ag major.

Prospects for future development include the addition of two staff members, a professor in the field of agriculture economics and a horticulturist. Additions to the facilities include plans for a meats laboratory and a greenhouse.

According to Smallwood, "We are just like the institution, we are in an advantageous position. We have the facility, the staff and I believe we are in the greatest agricultural area in the United States."

Joe Pafford To Join Staff

Joe Pafford of Claude, a 1960 graduate of West Texas State University, will join the faculty of the Department of Agriculture in the fall.

He will replace Jimmie Green, instructor of agronomy, who will be taking a year's leave of absence to work on his Ph.D. at Texas A. & M.

While at West Texas, Pafford was a member of the Agriculture Club and Buffalo Bills. He was named outstanding senior agriculture student.
